

Brett Buttlere

Leibniz-Institut für Wissensmedien
Schleichstr. 6
72076 Tübingen
b.buttlere@iwm-tuebingen.de
+49 7071 979 239

Education

2015–today PhD in Knowledge exchange at University of Tübingen, Department of Psychology
2012–2014 Research Master in Social Psychology and Methodology from Tilburg University
2011–2012 Research assistantships at Vrije University and University of Illinois
2007–2011 Bachelor of Arts in Psychology, Bradley University

Research Experience

2015–today Research assistant at the Leibniz-Institut für Wissensmedien
2012–2014 Worked toward Master in Social Psychology, many internships/ projects.
2011–2012 Research assistantships at Vrije University and University of Illinois
2009–2011 Research assistantship in the CSI lab at Bradley University

Academic Functions (Selection)

Program Committee WebSci16
Editor for ScienceSeeker in Science Policy and Bibliometrics
Student Blogger for PLoS
Consultant for AAAS Trellis website

Awards and Honors

WebSci16 Program Committee member
Asked to consult on Trellis, the forthcoming academic sharing platform of the AAAS
Selected to be a Tilburg University Alumni Ambassador
Only REMA student to conduct a lab meeting about their first year paper
Bradley Psychology won AP's 'Spirit of Service' award (2011)
As Vice-President of Service, Bradley won Psi Chi National Chapter award (2011)
As Membership Development, Chapter won National Website award (2010)
As Membership Development, Chapter won Regional Chapter award (2010)
Bradley Psychology Department Student Highlight: Picture/ biography on department main page

10 Most Relevant Publications

Buttlere, B. (2014). Using Science and Psychology to improve the dissemination and evaluation of scientific work. Frontiers in Computational Neuroscience, 8. doi:10.3389/fncom.2014.00082, Buttlere, B. (2015). Identifying high impact scientific work using Natural Language Processing and Psychology. Association for Computing Machinery Conference 2015.

Teaching / Supervisor Experience

Research Methods course: Bradley University

Biological Psychology: Bradley University